

Asheville DesignBuild Studio

A PROGRAM OF THE ASHEVILLE DESIGN CENTER

SUMMER 2013

The Asheville DesignBuild Studio, a program of the Asheville Design Center, is a multi-disciplinary, hands-on, educational experience. Participants will have the opportunity to affect a lasting and positive impact on Asheville's vibrant and diverse communities. Individuals will come together as a team, draw upon their wide range of design and technical disciplines to gather community input, define a project type, design and develop the concept, and build their design. The DesignBuild Studio addresses issues of social justice, community sustainability and good design, not simply by watching, but by doing.

This course is open to collegiate level individuals who are interested in learning more about the built environment, and how it interfaces with local communities. Additionally, participants will be trained in Public Interest Design through a partnership with Design Corps.
